MAKE YOUR MARK AGAINST BLOOD CANCER ON MAY 28TH

Show your solidarity. Spread the word.

Use the red ampersand (&) to make your mark against blood cancer. You can bring this symbol to life any way you like – there are no limits to your creativity! Just take a photo and upload it to the picture wall on worldbloodcancerday.org

For spreading the word in social media, you can easily upload your photo with the red ampersand (&) and share it along with the hashtag #wbcd

Organize your own activity. Help save lives!

You can also support the fight against blood cancer by hosting your own event on May 28th. Organize a donor drive or plan an activity to raise money for the cause. Motivate others to join or support your event by adding it to the calendar on worldbloodcancerday.org

Blood cancer patients around the world need support. Help to make a difference for them – help save lives!
